About the presenter

Andrea Laltoo is a dental hygienist and EFT tapping practitioner. She teaches pain management at Oulton College, and has instructed EFT in dental and medical settings including the Pacific Northwest Dental Conference, Rio Salado College, and the Bleeding Disorder Foundation of Washington.

As I understand more about EFT Tapping, I believe in its merits as an adjunctive stress management tool for dental patients and clinicians. Andrea blends her training as an EFT practitioner and dental hygienist to introduce this unique practice to the dental community. Andrea is especially gifted in her intuitive approach to tapping and encourages participants as they gain confidence applying these methods.
